Home Circle Department

Crude thoughts as they fall from the Editorial Pen—Pleasant Evening Reveries.

A column dedicated to Tired Mothers as they join the Home Circle at Evening Tide.

As a Girl Sees It.

DEAR EDITOR:—Will you permit one of the girl readers of your paper to occupy a little space in your highly appreciated Home Circle department.

I will begin, girl-like, by asking a question. Has no one seen a good girl lately? Are girls now-a-days much worse than those of yore? The average newspaper would make you think so. Every Journal (your own excepted) which I pick up has one or more columns devoted to things against women, until I have become frightened, and find myself wondering if I, too, am one of those dreadful creatures. And are those articles written by men? If so, they must be men without homes or families, who have mixed with a debased class of society. Surely no honorable gentleman would pen an article such as we daily peruse denouncing all the gentler sex as extravagant, jealous, faithless, nay, even immoral, and no home to receive the kiss of a dear wife or meet the innocent eyes of a bevy of sisters or daughters. These articles sow the seed in the minds of young men, for thoughts and feelings that would never have risen there without teaching. Now I am young, and am worldly-wise, at least, yet I have had my little experience, and I must say that I have met with many pure, good women, kind mothers, loving wives, dutiful daughters, affectionate sisters, women who are not for ruining their husbands or fathers by extravagance; who are not falling in love with every handsome man they see, who are not eloping every day with the family physician or husband's friend, but sensible in every respect. And I have met very good men. I regret it, I do not wish to speak against the men, for I rather like them and am willing to say that my experience has been perhaps unfortunate. I am inclined to believe that as in all ages there has existed noble men, "faithful in love, brave in war," so they may still be found—faithful in love (when there is plenty of money),—brave in war (with a major generalship ahead), and pretty good, usually, when the sky is serene and they have nothing to cross it. And now I claim a champion. Will not some one be brave enough to stand in opposition to popular opinion and truthful enough to say to the public that he has seen at least one or two real good girls in the course of a year? If such a one can be found I will thank him warmly, and will think that honesty is not yet extinct from the race of men.

Now, Mr. Editor, if this, my first attempt at newspaper writing does not find the waste basket you may bear from me again.

Very truly,

ELIZABETH JANE.

Learn to Do Something.

Young men, learn to do something! Learn to do some particular thing. Learn to acquire a thorough knowledge of some trade, business, or profession. A man who comes to maturity without having learned the art of practicing some particular employment is in a pitiable condition no matter whether he possesses money or not. If he is not among the fortunate few favorites of Plutus he will of course, have to toil all the way up to the summit of fortune as a common laborer, an employment good enough as long as one can do no better, but one we should advise no active young man to choose out of the many. If a young man has wealth, he certainly needs a knowledge of business sufficient to enable him to preserve his wealth. Neither would a trade injure a rich young man. A little of the "brown and brown," and steadiness of character, which labor induces, would make him a better, more reliable wielder of capital.

The time has passed when young men of this country can neglect the task of learning the details of an occupation with impunity. When the country was new and the population thinly scattered over the land, when there was plenty of room and privilege were cheap, people could find employment easily. Skilled labor was scarce, and rough hewers were in plenty. Any one could become an artisan. Mechanics, especially in the west, sprang to the journeyman's position in a day.

But that is changing now. Population is becoming more settled and dense. Property increases rapidly in value. Men are becoming rich, and desire more elegant business houses, residences, carriages, and artistic appliances of civilization of all kinds. The people demand better public edifices. Mechanics, artists and all kinds of skilled labor are in demand. He will win who has his trade best learned.

The man of skill is always in demand. The young man who would be sure of employment all the year round should learn as well as in times of prosperity, must know how to do something thoroughly.

It is well to get an education. A thorough educational discipline will make you an able man. But educate for some particular object.

Every good act is charity. Your smiling in your brother's face is charity; an exhortation of your fellowmen to virtuous deeds is equal to almsgiving; your putting a wanderer on the right track is charity; your removing stones and thorns and other obstructions from the road is charity. A man's true wealth hereafter is the good he does in this world to his fellowmen. When he dies people will say, "What property has he left behind him?" But the angels who examine him in the grave will ask, "What good deeds hast thou sent before thee?"

Humility.

As birds sing oftener on lowly roofs than palace domes, and roses love best to climb o'er lowly window sills and cottage eaves, so to the poor God's blessings come, freighted with dearest wealth, and to the humble heart His love is sweetest. They who have oftentimes bowed to earth with deep afflictions are nearest heaven; and as the rose never gives forth all its sweetness until it is crushed, so human hearts need the good Father's hand to press the blossoms of purity, and love and faith, that He may not have imparted to them their heavenly fragrance in vain.

A Criminal Attack.

on an inoffensive citizen is frequently made the apparently useless little tube called the "appendix." It is generally the result of protracted constipation, following liver torpor. Dr. King's New Life Pills regulate the liver, prevent appendicitis, and establish regular habits of the bowels. 25c. at L. Fournier's drug store.

Immigration of Japanese into America is increasing at so alarming a rate that it has been determined by the government to adopt extraordinary measures to prevent the introduction into the United States, not only of Japanese but of other Asiatic coolie laborers.

Great Britain and Russia have signed an agreement which removes all danger of a conflict between the two nations in Asia and promises much for the future peace of the world. In this connection it is noted that Japanese talk of hostility toward the United States has ceased. This is credited to the disfavor with which such talk was received by European nations and by the recent showing of our naval strength. If there was ever danger of war between the United States and Japan, that danger is now passed. Hereafter the Japs are likely to purr gently in their intercourse with and attitude toward the great American republic, future "mistress of the Pacific."

W. T. Bradford, bond officer for the Union Trust Co., has just returned from an extended tour of the state, during which he visited most all the banks. He says that the country bankers inform him, that were it not for the papers and stories sent out from New York they would know nothing about tight money. Mr. Bradford states the interior banks in first-class condition and are buying commercial paper from Detroit and Chicago in small quantities, and that while there is no particular enthusiasm such as was manifested in many places before the crest of the wave of prosperity was reached, there is a serene contentment with present conditions, that is very reassuring. Detroit Free Press.

According to the Michigan crop report the temperature throughout the state during the month of September was about normal until the 26th, when a killing frost did considerable damage to corn, beans and gardens. The rain fall in all sections of the state was greatly in excess of the average and caused some injury to potatoes, serious damage to the bean-crop and retarded the sowing of wheat. In the matter of potatoes, the estimated average yield per acre in bushels, in the southern counties is 86, in the central counties 82, in the northern counties 101, and in the state 88. The estimated acreage harvested is 309,673 and estimated yield 27,251,224 bushels. As usual northern Michigan leads in percentages on rye, beans and buckwheat and is behind on corn, barley and oats.

It has been recommended by the war department at Washington that the several state governments organize a national guard branch of the coast artillery. This arm of the service is short of men and it is suggested that it would be a good thing not only for the coast artillery, but for the national guard as well to have a reserve force of men capable of handling the sea-coast guns. This is a question that might be very well taken up by the state legislature, and is one that probably will be received with enthusiasm by the national guard regiments of the various states.

His Dear old Mother.

"My dear old mother, who is now eighty three years old, thrives on Electric Bitters," writes W. B. Brunson, of Dublin, Ga. "She has taken them for about two years and enjoys an excellent appetite, feels strong and sleeps well." That's the way Electric Bitters affect the aged, and the same happy results follow in all cases of female weakness and general debility. Wake many children too, and greatly strengthened by them. Guaranteed also for stomach, liver and kidney troubles, by L. Fournier, Drug-gist, 20c.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Stephan were pleasantly surprised Wednesday evening, when a crowd of relatives and friends numbering about twenty, walked in about eight o'clock to remind Mrs. Stephan that it was her birthday. The evening was spent in games and graphophone music. A genuine good time was enjoyed by all. Mrs. Stephan was presented with several presents, among which was a beautiful gold locket and chain from her husband. About 11:30 an elaborate luncheon was served. The happy crowd broke up shortly afterwards, each one feeling they had enjoyed themselves immensely.

A newspaper may boom a town through its editorial and news columns but a critical investor looks to the advertising columns for substantial evidence of push and life. To him they are thermometers measuring the intensity of public warmth. They are the pulse which indicates the healthy condition of the collective body of the people. They tell him whether or not the community is up to the times in business matters.

The jury in the Chadwick murder case near Atlanta, returned the following verdict in the case: "We find that Charles W. Chadwick came to his death on the afternoon or evening of Tuesday, Sept. 24, from a bullet wound from a rifle shot fired from a large calibre rifle in the hands of some unknown person." Mrs. Chadwick declared insane by her physician, and her condition is very serious. There will be no trial until the next term of court.

Deputy Game Warden Avery did a fine stroke of business on Lake St. Clair recently. Noticing suspicious actions on the part of three men in a gasoline launch, the deputy steered his launch toward them, when they fled out into the lake. Mr. Avery found a net 175 feet long and 12 feet deep, containing about five barrels of fish, which were liberated. The net, which is a large and expensive one, will be sent to the state department to be destroyed. Mr. Avery could not overtake the launch, but thinks he can identify it and secure the arrest of the three illegal fishermen.

The day of safely marketing rotten eggs and eggs about ready to hatch is over. A government inspector recently hung around a store in an Iowa town, and when a farmer brought in some eggs he took the lot. If the merchant had taken the eggs and disposed of them to his customers he would have been liable to the same fine.

He then went to bed in the same room. You can imagine the conversation when they awoke in the morning. Wolverine Courier.

EMBEZZLER IN TOILS.

CONFESSES THEFT OF $100,000 AND IS ARRESTED.

Confidential Clerk Comes to Grief After He Appropriates Proceeds From Sale of Farm—More Dynamite Plots in Denver.

Confessing he had stolen an amount now estimated at $100,000 from the stock exchange firm of James H. O'Connell & Co., 37 Nassau street, New York, for which he had been confidential manager for six years, George H. Brown was arrested in his home in Brooklyn and placed under $50,000 bail. The basis for the indictment was not Brown's pecuniary loss from the O'Connell firm, but for converting to his own account the proceeds of a check for $2,750 which should have been turned over to Jay F. Carls, a member of the stock exchange. Mr. Carls is wealthy and is a son-in-law of Robert A. Taft, who died last night. Although there was a report that the embezzlement would amount to $200,000, this was denied by James H. O'Connell. When Mr. Carls was about to go to Europe this summer he confided many of his affairs to Brown, including the management of the stock exchange firm in New York. It was the understanding that if the firm was disposed of the proceeds should be turned over by Brown to the O'Connell firm and acceded to Mr. Carls's account. The firm was sold by Brown and a check for the price, $2,750, was received by him. Instead, however, of turning over this check to the firm, he endorsed it and put the cash in his pocket. Mr. Carls did not return from abroad until recently, and it was only a few days ago that he began an accounting of his affairs with Brown. "Then he learned that the price of the firm was not in his credit. When he asked Brown about it, the truth came out. With this admission Brown made the confession that he had taken over money from Mr. Carls and that he had robbed the O'Connell firm as well."

The vessel was last seen on the morning of the 9th, and was believed to have been wrecked on the night of the 10th. The bodies of many of the lost have been washed ashore.

BARES MORE DYNAMITE PLOTS.

Kemp V. Bigelow, the young clerk from Bryan, Ohio, who mailed dynamite packages to Gov. Buchard and several other prominent citizens of Denver, Colo., has confessed that he was also the author of the letter which called the state's attention to the matter. Bigelow, who is now in custody, has admitted that he mailed the packages to the governor and other officials in order to blackmail them. He has also admitted that he had a plan to blow up the state capitol building. Bigelow is now being held in custody and is expected to be arraigned in court soon.

MAGILL TRIAL OPENED.

Clinton (Ill.) Bank Official and Wife Face Murder Charge.

Fred H. Magill, a former banker of Clinton, Ill., and his child wife, Faye Graham Magill, were placed on trial at Decatur, Ill., on the charge of murdering Mrs. Pot Magill, first wife of the accused man. Eighty witnesses were summoned by the state and forty by the defense.

Magill's first wife was found dead in her home May 30, 1907. The coroner's verdict was "death due to heart disease, superinduced by chloroform." A number of letters were found purporting to have been written by Mrs. Magill, and these were so unusual that a question was raised as to their authenticity. The state's attorney Miller announced his belief that a suicide never would take the time or the pains to write so many letters, or to recommend to her husband to marry a rival, Faye Graham. The "suicide" theory was accepted, however, and the case would have been forgotten but for the fact that Magill and Faye Graham were married.

CUBS AND TIGERS FIGHT

Chicago and Detroit Baseball Champions Battle.

FIRST GAME IS A TIE.

Darkness Calls "Time" with the Score Standing 3 to 3.

FRANTIC THOUSANDS CHEER.

Chance Eaves Up with Jennings in the Ninth Inning.

The Cubs and Tigers fought and chewed one another for twelve thrilling and spectacular innings at Chicago's West Side Stadium Tuesday afternoon, and darkness finally put an end to the Titanic battle, with a score 3 to 3. Never in the history of the world's series under the national agreement has a more fierce or exciting battle of champions been waged. It was Greek meeting Greek, and diamond scratching diamond, but neither would allow the other to carry away the first plum in the great world's series.

The struggle will go down in baseball history as one of the most exciting and dramatic ever played. It was a game of painful suspense and thrilling surprises, with victory hovering alternately over the rival benches, and in the last second drifting away in the dusk. A mighty multitude, 24,377 in number, watched the tide of battle ebb and flow, its cheering excitement passing into screaming frenzy as climax was piled on climax.

Although the total fell short of breaking records by a narrow margin, the gate receipts were the largest ever taken in at a ball game. The gross proceeds were $29,022.50, of which the players' share will be $15,747.75. Under the rules of the series, the tie score makes it a "no contest," and thus adds materially to the largesse of the players by permitting them to share in the receipts of five games instead of four.

Dumoyan, known to fame as "Wild Bill," pitched for the Detroit team, and Overall for Chicago. The twirling lions went to the former, though the giant Overall was in excellent form. Overall was taken out of the game in the ninth inning, when the Cubs needed a stronger batsman and Reulbach followed him in the box, proving a complete puzzle for the Tigers.

According to a correspondent, the hoarse thousands, who had filled every available inch of space in the grounds, came away gibbering about how the Cubs would have won if things had happened thus and so. There was logic in their ravings, for in the ninth, the tenth, the eleventh and the twelfth innings Chicago held the victory tightly grasped, but each time the fickle goddess interfered in favor of Detroit.

Radium Deep in the Alps.

A report from Geneva, Switzerland, says that Prof. Joly, after completing a geological examination of the rock borings from the Simplon tunnel, finds traces of radium, indicating larger deposits of this rare and extremely valuable element than any hitherto discovered in Europe. It is his theory that the presence of this ore caused the abnormal heat experienced in digging the tunnel, and he believes that the world's supply of radium is far greater than was supposed.

Fewer City Children.

Recent British statistics show that the English are dying out in the cities, for from 1800 to 1900 the percentage of children to population decreased from 39 per cent to 23 per cent. Fewer children are born in the towns and more die there.

Cost of Living Increasing.

The upward tendency in prices is causing the man on salary or wages serious consideration. Table provisions in all lines have increased from 10 to 35 per cent. It takes at least $125 now to do what $1 would have done a year ago.

BIG CORN SHOW.

Unique National Exposition Opened in the Chicago Coliseum.

In Chicago's magnificently decorated Coliseum the first great national corn exposition ever held in this country was opened to the public. Every corn-growing state in the union is represented among the hundreds of displays of white, red and golden ears, forming the most complete agricultural display of its kind ever seen. Sixteen thousand dollars in cash prizes and over $50,000 in special prizes will be awarded. Corn husking, bees and similar rural entertainments will be held daily during the show. In addition to the corn displays, an exhibit is shown of household articles made from different parts of the corn plant, including husks, stalks and tassels. Among the articles shown are rugs, portieres, table covers, mugs and picture frames. Elaborate decorations, costing nearly $100,000, have been installed in the Coliseum, corn and corn plants being the dominant material used. In addition to a miniature corn farm in the center of the big building, an ancient temple, dedicated to the goddess of corn, has been erected, where at certain periods of each day the virgins of the sun will offer sacrifices of corn. On either side are exhibits of the different states, done in corn, each showing the amount of last year's corn crop. A unique feature is the corn demonstration kitchen, where 200 ways of preparing corn for human beings to eat are illustrated by expert cooks. Among the 1,500 known varieties of corn on exhibition is corn of a blue color and white corn of a purple color. Fourteen states in the corn belt are represented and exhibits have been received from foreign countries.
